Question: How much Tabasco \(or similar product\) is equivalent to one of these caps?

Answer: The caps I ordered have 450 mg of Cayenne. If you check the bottle of Tabasco, it doesn't give the milligrams. It just says it contains red pepper, so it's difficult to make the comparison. There is a warning on the bottle of Cayenne about consulting with a health care professional if you have gastro issues. I took one daily dose, and never took another. Gave me a terrible gut-ache, and I don't think I have any gastro issues. see less

Question: How can it be vegetarian when it contains gelatin?

Answer: To the best of my knowledge, in a strict sense, you cannot be a pure vegetarian--vegan--and consume gelatin. Only veggie caps would be allowed. There are companies that have veggie caps. An alternative would be to buy bulk.

Bathroom Time Made Unpleasant

By KinCO on September 24, 2014Verified Purchase

I tried using this product for weight loss purposes; however, when it was time to use the bathroom... OUCH!!! Wow, did it burn. Additionally, it did cause some stomach upset for me. I personally can't recommend this product for these reasons.

Gets your blood flowing!

By CA_Kathy on November 18, 2013Verified Purchase

The first few days, I wasn't so sure about this stuff, but after that, my stomach seemed to acclimate and I'm loving the cayenne during the winter. I feel internally warm all the time, my feet and hands never feel cold anymore; no more fights about the thermostat!

Good stuff!

By James Sanders on June 10, 2015Verified Purchase

Great for relief of minor body/joint aches. I had trouble getting a good night's sleep because of arthritis pain in my hands. Cayenne and turmeric supplements have greatly relieved the pain and allowed me to reduce OTC pain medicine.

I did noticed weight loss while on this product. Keep in mind I was also watching my intake. It gives you a warm feeling quickly after taking it. My mother took it as well and said it gave her heartburn.

Report abuseNumbness from diabetic feet significantly reduced!By Robert R. Loop on June 28, 2016Size: 180 Verified Purchase

I have had problems with numbness in my feet due to diabetes. I have been diagnosed as diabetic for just over 5 years. I saw other posts stating how this pepper acted like TNT in opening blood ways and decided to try this product. Amazing! On the third day I noticed the numbness had started to subside. Now, several weeks later I am seeing a significant difference. My feet are really starting to feel normal again and that walking on dead stumps feeling is significantly reduced. I cannot say that you will have similar results as I am taking several supplements to reduce my A1C, which has gone down from 12% to 6% in about 3.5 years. I specifically started taking this in an attempt to get the blood flow going in my feet and for me, it worked!
